General Terms and Conditions – Special Section – for waste disposal, according to order form T.06

§ 1 Object

Kms can arrange for waste to be collected from exhibitors' stands and forwarded to a waste disposal company, a service carried out on the account of Kms.

§ 2 Services of KMS

Kms provides the necessary containers for waste disposal.

The type of waste that may be put in each container is listed on the front of the receptacle and in the technical specifications. The technical specifications will be handed out to the exhibiting companies.

Kms commissions a cleaning company that delivers the collected waste to a waste disposal company which fulfils the legal requirements (currently Remondis).

§ 3 Duties and liability of the client

The exhibiting company must ensure that the waste is correctly sorted into each container provided.

In the case of violation, Kms or the cleaning company commissioned by Kms is entitled to: refuse to collect the incorrectly sorted waste; to return the incorrectly sorted waste to the client; to have the waste placed in intermediate storage until further action has been agreed on; to have the waste taken to a different disposal facility and to charge an appropriate fine in order to cover the additional fees of the waste disposal facility and other additional costs.

Waste containers may only be filled to the capacity or weight stated in each case.

The exhibiting company is obliged to notify Kms or the cleaning company responsible for the hall area in question of any damages caused during waste disposal. This notification must be submitted in writing without delay, or in urgent cases verbally in the first instance.

The exhibiting company is liable for all damages to, or caused by, the containers, and for their loss. If waste must be retransferred due to damage, the costs are borne by the exhibiting company. If the waste containers provided are lost or damaged, Kms will supply replacement containers.

The exhibiting company is also liable for damages caused by the provision of incorrect or insufficient information concerning the waste to be collected, recycled or disposed of.

Should the above-mentioned breaches of duty by the exhibiting company result in third-party damage claims towards Kms or its vicarious agents, the exhibiting company shall exempt Kms and its vicarious agents from these claims.

In the case of damage, the exhibiting company is required to prove that it filled the waste containers correctly, or that the notification of Kms and/or the cleaning company responsible for the hall area in question was correct and complete.

§ 4 Billing

Kms will issue an invoice for the services provided to the exhibiting company, based on the signed delivery proof form.
